A grown man couldn't be induced to try that experiment; and yet the grown man will overload himself with indigestible food for which he will pay a greater penalty than colic. It is this careless and thoughtless eating which is the beginning of stomach trouble and all its painful consequences.

PREPARING HIS MESPAGE. President-elect Estrada-Palma arrived yesterday at Cienfuegos on board the steamer Julis. Thousands of persons flocked to the wharf to welcome him there. He employed his time while on the way from Santiago to Cienfueges in outlining his first mea-sage to the Cuban congress. It is said that in this message he will signify his intention of making Cuba's foreign policy one of close relations with all nations, and especially with Spain. nations, and especially with Spain. He will accentuate in this message the profound feeling of gratitude which Cuba owes the United States, and he will declare the latter country has given the whole world an example of its political sincerity by honorably fulfilling the joint resolution of Congress is making the Cuban people free. He will urge the union of all political factions in Cuba and say he counts on cooperation and good faith of the Spaniar is in the island. He will declare himself as opposed to a commerical himself as opposed to a commerical treaty between Cuba and the United States until it is known that the reducion of the American duty on Cuban sugar is to be more than 25 per cent and will say be feels sure that this reduction will amount to 33 per cent. of the present duty. The President will make no estimate for war expenses or for the maint nance of the Cuban navy. He will advise the Cubau government to distribute cattle among the poor farmers of the island, who will pay therefor in installments. He will recommend the cultivation of ceff-e and fruit in Cubs, and says that the island should not re-by upon its tobacco and sugar crops. He also will recommend sending representatives to Washington to study to site of the workings of the Department of Agriculture. The message will say that the President considers the say that the President considers the Isle of Pines useless to the United States on account of the shallow water there. He will not consent that any flag other than the Cuban be raised at Havans. He will propose that the work of sanitation begun by the Americans be continued and he will propose the property of the pro inued, and he will urge the need of nospitals. There is to be no change in the coinsge of Cuba at present, but Senor Estrada-Palma will say be intends to raise a loan to pay the Cuban revolutionary army when Cuba has money to pay the interest on this loan. Extensive arrangements, in which the Spaniards are taking a consp clous part, are being made at Cienfuegos to entertain the President-elect. GENERAL LEE IN POLITICS. Virginia politicians are somewhat in terested in the report sent out from Birmingham, Ala., that General Fitzhugh Lee, in an interview, in that city, had stated that he was in politics to stay, though he would not be a candidate for the United States Senate. For some time there has been a growing belief in Virginia that General Lee had political aspirations, and the report strengthens this belief. He and Governor Montague are great personal friends, and it is known that the Governor Montague are great personal friends, and it is known that the Governor Montague are great personal friends. nor was the choice of General Lee for the guberostorial nomination last year. General Lee was in Richmond some months ago, and Governor Montague and he were closeted together for an hour or more at the Westmoreland Club. At least one of the best-known democrats in the State also saw them during the conference, and t is said that others were with them for a short time. The conference at the time creeted considerable com-ment as portuning something of inter-est in the political world. It may be that the announcement of General Lee that he is in politics "to stay" is the outcome of the conference. And it is not impossible that this will soon be followed by the further announcement that he is a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Dani el, though it is generally believed that he will oppose Senator Martin. General Lee is now in Indianapolis.—

NEW CONSTITUTION.

Richmond Dispatch.

Advices from Richmond are to the effect that the committee on final re vision has about completed its work on the constitution paper and well begin today on the schedule, which will prob ably consume the remainder of the week. The most difficult problem to provision as to senators, who, under the new constitution, are all to be elected at once for the term of four years. It will, apparently, be neces-eary to cut the terms of half of the sen-tors off two years or else extend the solve is how to put into effect the new terms of half of them two years. It is Clearance Sale expected that the convention will quickly dispose of its work when it reassembles two weeks from today and assembles two weeks from today and formally adopt the new constitution and proclaim it. The advocates of sub-revision bave now practically abandoned the fight and the new instrument will be proclaimed. There may be a fight over the matter, but it will be about and decisive. The new constitution is nearly three times as constitution is nearly three times as long as the present one. The idea of testing the constitutionality of the governor's veto of the Congressional reapportionment bill has, it is believed, been practically abandoned. It has been decided not to carry the question
